FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1873.

BEFORE the Register wastes much more of its valuable space talking about "plans for the promotion of immigration, which sed to refer to as "heretofore pro posed," and which it assumes the INTEL-LIGENCER and the Parkersburg Times have criticised, it might explain to its readers what those "plans" are. It is not anybody's plans that we have been finding fault with but the supreme indiffer ence of the Legislature to the whole subject. The only plan that has thus far been received with any favor by that body was to give a gentleman the empty title of Commissioner and to allow him to do what he could with empty pockets. He was permitted to promote immigration at his own expense, and then instead of being commended for what he did was ned for not doing more.

The Register's anxiety to have us suggest a plan of operations for the guidance of the Legislature is too transparent. As remarked the other day, we are not conducting the affairs of this Commonwealth just now; we might undertake it for a brethren would give us carte blanche and the keys of the treasury (what is left of it) we might be induced to show them a few things about immigration; but it is a little too much to expect us to show them how to do a thing and then have them claim all the glory of it for themselves. They made their boasts that they could do these things better than their predecessors, and now we want to see them do it. This appeal for help and advice is very touching, but we have hard-ened our heart and cannot respond to it. Our forlorn brother & Market street will have to paddle his own canoe. We know going to tell-at least not for nothing.

Our good friend Col. HENRY J. Johnson, edtor of the Cumberland News, was nominated for State Senate by the Republicans of Alleghany county at their convention last Tuesday. We congratulate the Republicans of Alleghany on their selection. The honor is one Col. Johnson deserved for services rendered, and one he will prove worthy of.

FAIRMONT.

Third Day of the Fair-The Tournament-Slippery Pastimes, &c. (From Our Special Correspondent.)

Last evening even Wheeling reporters were forced into an unusual show of warmth for each other by the coolness of dispelled the idea that summer had de parted from this city of many hills. The natural attractions here are not striking, but the country is of a sunny, gracious sort, threaded with green, quiet roads shady through very neglect. The woods ich in varie'y, though of slender

But this is a great day at the Fair Grounds. Everybody goes to see the GRAND TOURNAMENT.

We notice particularly the large number of ladies present. To say the least of these ladies, they are very dressy. They vie with one another in piling up their heads with pyramids of alien hair. Such enormous paniers as these young women sport could never have been revealed to the most reckless dressmaker in her wild-est after-dinner dreams. But then they we append the result of the tournament; the list of Knights you already have: David Ridgelly crowned Miss Eliza Al-len, of Fairmont, Queen of Love and Reauty: John Hamilton crowned Miss Eliza Hayden, of Fairmont, First Maid o Honor; Wm. A. Radeliff crowned Miss Morgan, of Reevesville, Second Maid of Wm. Meredith crowned Mis Belle Allen, of Farmington, Third Maid of Honor. The Knights made a handsome display, and excited universal admiration; and the ladies crowned were as levely as West Virginia's mountains only can produce. GREASY FUN.

But the fun of the day was yez to come. The first in order was climbing a alippery pole, for a prize of $3, which was won by Charles Black. Mr. Black was also the winner of the sack race, (one sack ove his head, another over his feet,) for prize of $3. David Felty (colored.) caught the greased pig and $3. "Peanut Scott" was on the ground, but owing to a rush in the confectionary line, did not enter any of

THE NUMBER PRESENT this afternoon is estimated at not less than 3 000-nearly twice as many as last year. There was no racing yesterday or to-day. THE INTELLIGENCER. "My father takes the INTELLIGENCER." sald a young lady in our hearing, "and he loves it next to his Bible."

"I don't read much," said another, bu when you've only ten minutes to spend on a paper you'll get more information from the INTELLIGENCER in that time than from any other paper." I think their correspondents decidedly the best, and the lady glanced at our rapid scrib bling. "They put so much labor on their

Resolved, That when we recognize the "Resolved, That when we recognize the full right of every citizen to express and act upon his convictions upon all questions of public interest, no person holding office has a right to seek to influence the action of his subordinates by exciting their fear of the loss of place if their opinions and actions shall differ from his own, and we call upon the President. Further, ions and actions shall differ from his own, and we call upon the President, further, to remove all public officers who have improperly interfered with the independence of Republicans of Massachusetts in the management of their local concerns, whenever the fact is proved to his satisfication.

Resolved. That the adoption of a policy which shall so reduce freights on railroads that raw material, food and coal of the West and South, shall be exchanged at the least possible cost for the manufactures of New England, interest the whole country, and is vital to the industries of Massachusetts; that the power vested by the Constitution in Congress to regulate the commerce between States, includes jurisdiction over this great subject, and the commerce between states, includes jurisdiction over this great subject, and that we call upon Congress and our State Legislature to so exercise all their powers over railroads and all such monopolies, that without injustice to them, may reduce freights and fares to the proper rates, and secure the advantages of these great highways to the whole people, free from all preferences or monopoly.

and secure the advantages of these great highways to the whole people, free from all preferences or monopoly.

Resolved, That every great achievement for personal liberty, for the preservation of the Union, for education, for the elevation of woman, and for the extension of suffrage, which has been accomplished in this country for a generation, has been due to the Republican party; that while none of these great causes has anything to hope for in the future from any other source, while every new truth, every claim founded on justice, will in the future, as in the past, find its earliest converts, its most generous recognition, its strongest advocates, and its first victories among the Republicans of Massachusetts. The pressing duty of the day is to secure honesty and purity, the right of the people peaceably to assemble and take counsel on public matters and select their agents, free from violence intimidation and fraudight to hold caucuses and conventions without being cheated and bullied, and we therefore call upon all honest Republicans, however they may differ on other questions, however they may have advanced in their reception of new ideas, to unite in purging the Commonwealth and vanced in their reception of new ideas, to unite in purging the Commonwealth and nation of violence, treachery and corrup-
